

When you're looking for security, it pays to go with a title company that has some.

The real estate market is a volatile place these days, so you need a title company with financial stability – you need Stewart. No other company in the industry has had that kind of growth; as a matter of fact, Stewart was the only major title insurance company to increase policyholders' surplus from 2006 to 2007. Furthermore, this growth has led to a momentous change within the industry as Stewart surpassed all competitors in 2007 to have the largest policyholders' surplus of any title insurance underwriter.
